Our staff receives updated training in interpersonal skills and in all aspects of patient care. But this can only be meaningful if the Committee is able to justify its existence and remain functional and relevant to the affairs of the Commission and the sub-region. These are covered under various items and spheres such as quality and quantity management for surface water and wetlands; groundwater management; ecosystem and biodiversity; processes of approving new projects; facilities of common interest; national and regional responsibilities; data sharing and exchange; conflict prevention and resolutions; and socio-economic development of riparian populace. The Lake Chad water charter and sub-regional integration and security Article 3 as cited above has put beyond speculation that one of the general objectives of the charter is to engender sub-regional cooperation and solidarity, the main indicator of which are sub-regional peace, security and development. In accordance with these services, we also offer our clients: As a gift to Chamorro people living in The Marianas, the Sakman is permanently harbored where she belongs--in the ocean waters of the Marianas, Guam. As a last resort, the parties may resort to judicial arbitrations, if all the above measures are exhausted. This is more so when the diverse background of the members is put into account; with three members in the Central African region, two from West Africa, and one from the North Africa. Secondly, it is universally accepted that water and food security are the essential tools of ensuring security of lives and property. This is critical, considering the insurance companies are shortening the timely filing deadlines and the appeal process. Article 87 enjoins the members to refer any dispute they are unable to resolve directly between them, to the Commission LCBC to mediate and resolve. It tells what services you will get to reach and keep your best physical, mental, and social well-being. The purpose of the Charter is to develop, adopt and implement policies and strategies to promote the equitable, efficient and sustainable of water and other resources in the basin in order to facilitate good governance, sub-regional cooperation and solidarity.
