Oct 10, - Hi All Just as the title suggests. Does anyone have any idea on the costs of a private appointment and any necessary tests to be put on clomid. Nhs. Hello, I've just seen my obs/gynae dr who's suggested provera and then starting on Clomid. I had a natural pg which sadly ended in m/c. Since the ERPC in March have had very light bleed this month, sorry if TMI. Please can anyone tell me if your GP can prescribe Clomid on NHS or if I have to but it? My partner had semen analysis done on the NHS and I had initial bloods and internal scan of my ovaries on the NHS so that was quite good. We then paid ? for a consultation and was prescribed northisterone to induce a period this cost ?10 and ten was given 6 cycles of clomid ?36 we also had to have Private Fertility treatment - Clomid - advice needed! The nhs will not fund Clomid for me so it, ll cost me ?5 for months worth of lower dose and ?10 for the higher depending on what im given. Then i get monitored whilst on it so i need scans, more bloods, pay consultant so it, ll cost ? initially to get me going then just pay for clomid thereafter. Feel better knowing and also.
