Baby Fill 1 Copy. My infants Tylenol says for children. Read the labels to be sure your child is not getting it from 2 products. A Two month shots and Tylenol. If possible, use the syringe or dropper that comes with the medicine. Don't use under 12 weeks of age unless told by child's doctor. Now I am wondering if I used infant or children's tylenol. Syringes and droppers are better to use than teaspoons. Doctors recommend using a child's weight instead of age when figuring out how much medicine to give. I still give my 2 and 4 year old infant Tylenol because they hate taking medicine and you have to give less! Overdosing can lead to liver damage and, in rare cases, even death. Before giving your child a dose, check the label to make sure the recommended dosage and concentration agree with the numbers below. For kids, this medicine is available in oral suspensions liquid form and also chewable tablets. Chewable tablets are not recommended for children younger than 2 because they are a choking hazard. So by giving the children's Tylenol at the infant Tylenol dose you actually under dosed which is better than over dosing.
