Slowly reduced the dosage over a month so as to not go over the edge from abruptly stopping. This content does not have an Arabic version. I felt like I was OK for a few weeks not so anxious in crowds and the day after I went up to mg I was at an afternoon event and I just couldn't relax I had to get out the room felt worse then I had in a while but I have heard that anxiety will get worse before getting better? I had NO side effects whatsoever and cant say I felt any different.. It could be bc I had a really bad anxiety attack a week ago and now I'm just over obsessing about it. Should I switch back to brand name? Thanks for your reply I guess I am just being inpatient and desperate to see a change i will give it another month or two and hopefully will see some changes.
