The Boots assessment includes a health questionnaire and a minute consultation to check a number of factors, such as medical history, blood pressure, cholesterol levels and blood sugar. The RPS has developed a logo that will appear on the first page of registered online pharmacies. While internet pharmacies can make it easier to obtain prescribed drugs, they cannot replace necessary face-to-face consultations with clinical staff, as the RPS has emphasised. Boots is the only pharmacist to have received permission to sell prescription-only viagra, and any issuing of viagra must be accompanied by appropriate health checks. Medical professionals, including trained pharmacists, can apply for permission to issue certain drugs under the Patient Group Direction scheme. Viagra to go on sale over the counter. One recent survey of doctors by the medical newspaper GP found that one in four have treated patients for problems that were caused by internet-bought medicines. Even if a product on sale is genuine, medicines can interact with each other and many need to be accompanied by safety checks and advice from qualified, regulated clinical staff. Websites that sell prescription-only medicines are likely to be illegal in Great Britain.
