I have only been on Apri (generic for Desogen) for a pack and a half, but have felt decreased libido, vaginal dryness, depression/mood swings, laziness and lethargy, wanting to eat all the time. Right before I started it, I was very active and full of energy for a very long time. It's such a drastic change. And of course, even though doctor prescribed Desogen, pharmacy switched it to this generic one. I learned from previous experience that switching to generic is absolutely not the same, and this case is not any different.
