Most generic medications are about 95 to 99 percent cheaper than their brand-named equivalents! How much of a difference in price is there between the two? The first are very expensive. It only takes a few phone calls to change his view. Next, I'll call Costco and ask: Saw these reviews and asked the doctor about it and he admitted that it may be what was causing my problems. For more by David Belk, click here. You know all those ads usually for overpriced brand-name medications that say "Ask your doctor? I didn't know why I was tired all the time, and became anxious when I had that "heavy" feeling, with the tingling. Here is a list I've made of more than commonly prescribed generic medications along with their most recent cash price at Costco for as much as a year's supply in many cases.
