Both the T 1's and Aspirin come with a lot of caffiene in them, and would rather not have that - really cheap though, but dont think that's even worth it There is also a form of Robaxacet that i know of that has no caffiene, just Methocarbamol, Acetaminophen and Codeine, but its DAMN EXPENSIVE - not worth the money - rather get a few oxys or something instead are there any other products that are available and "cost effective"?? I know how to UTFSE i just want to make sure percent before i go that i do everythng right, also whats the simpliest CWE cuz ive read a few that seem sorta complicated. And you're right - Robax only methocarb. If you have a "No Frills" store with a pharmacy inside, then this has your best deal. I have CWEd Methocarbamol. Wiki Research Mission Statement Donate! Experiment,I always just use the local pharmacies generic brand. The stuff with caffiene is all really cheap..
