Heartburn in children may sometimes be caused by a serious condition. On Monday night July 22 , Steve Wilson, an investigative reporter for channel 7 News in Detroit, did a story on generic drug price gouging by pharmacies. Although some people get complete relief of symptoms within 24 hours, it may take 1 to 4 days for full effect. Pharmaceutical companies expend money on the research and development costs of creating the drugs, plus the overhead costs of manufacturing, marketing, and shipping them; as well, pharmacies must sell drugs for more than their wholesale prices in order to cover the overhead costs of store operations including pharmacists' salaries. Frequent heartburn can occur anytime during the hour period day or night. Although we can't guarantee that Costco always has the lowest prices on generic drugs, it is generally true that their pharmacy will fill prescriptions for non-members but be prepared to pay by cash or ATM card rather than check.
