However one pill of Cialis is enough for the next 36 hours and its key component is Tadalafil. But Cialis is not a generic of Viagra. Cialis is the same erection enhancer. On starting your research you will face your first embarrassment as you will find numerous drugs: Cialis is not a generic form of Viagra. For example, the key active component of Viagra is Sildenafil Citrate. Some pharmaceutical companies use the same active ingredient as Viagra has but add strange substances to the composition. Buying fake drugs is of great risk for your health as you do not know the pharmaceutical grade of the ingredients used to produce the drugs, you do not know whether the pills are properly tested and you do not know who will take responsibility if something happens to you. Thus your family budget will not be devastated. It is used as for young so for elderly men primarily. When you finally make a decision to start taking Viagra you will probably do your own research of the market to find out what is the price of Viagra, what dosages of the medicine are available on the market and what are the possible Viagra alternatives. Generic Viagra means that the medicine has the same active ingredient and the same composition as Viagra, but it is produced and marketed by another pharmaceutical company. You will need to thoroughly plan your budget to buy the pills regularly. The matter is that fake drug is marketed under the conformable names which sound like Viagra. Cialis is a individually produced and marketed drug. The aim of the producers is to sell fake drug as expensive as original Viagra is.
